Location: VA Puget Sound Healthcare System

Description:

The VA hospitalist group has a monthly journal club reviewing recent publications relevant to hospital medicine. One hospitalist a month will select an article of their choosing which they review in detail and present to the group. There is time for group analysis and questions, as well as discussion on how the article will (or will not) change or affirm current practice. This activity helps keep the group up to date, which then results in more informed attending physicians and teachers for our learners. The audience also frequently includes physicians and NPs from the ED and Primary Care Clinics who are always invited to attend.
