

Continuing Medical Education Upcoming 2024 Courses

December 9, 2024 Current Concepts in Medication Therapy 2024

(In-Person) This program is designed for the medical oncology and hematology certification and re-certification exams as well as clinical practitioners wanting to keep up to date on the latest developments in the field. Offering learners comprehensive reviews of recent clinical advances in hem-onc.

February 1, 2025 2nd Annual Seattle Sudden Cardiac Death Symposium

(In-Person) Sudden cardiac death remains a leading public health concern that continues to be the subject of clinical and translational research aimed at predicting and improving outcomes of patients who are at risk for and survive cardiac arrest. The planning committee recognizes the importance of continued education of providers at all levels in providing the most up to date evidence.

February 7 - 8, 2025 10th Annual Men's Health Update 2025

(In-Person) An internationally acclaimed faculty has been assembled to provide this update, with presentations on topics such as prostate screening and treatment, testosterone deficiency and the controversy of testosterone replacement, male urinary dysfunction, kidney and bladder pathology, sexual dysfunction, male infertility and the changing influence of marijuana, and genital pain syndromes.

March 13 - 14, 2025 Endocrinology Update for Primary Care 2025

(In-Person) This is a comprehensive two-day course on endocrinology and diabetes geared towards primary care providers. There is an immense need for education as the incidence of diabetes and endocrinology disorders in the general population, and primary care clinics carry the major burden of these patients. Didactic lectures offered in this program will provide the latest information on current topics related to diabetes, endocrinology, and guideline updates.

March 27 - 28, 2025 21st Annual Reproductive and Gynecology Health Update

(Hybrid) This conference is an annual update for health care providers who provide care to women+ on relevant topics. The topics are selected from suggestions from previous course attendees, areas with substantial change, and controversial subjects where medical opinions may differ. The purpose is to provide a clinical update for providers who care for these patients in an outpatient setting. The format is a series of short lectures followed by question-and-answer sessions.

May 2, 2025 24th Annual Clinical Cardiology Pearls for Primary Care

(Hybrid) This hybrid conference will provide an overview of travel medicine and global health. The conference is targeted to non-specialist physicians and other health professionals with an interest in travel medicine and global health. Travel medicine topics will include immunizations, malaria prophylaxis, traveler's diarrhea, and other topics salient to caring for those who travel to low-income nations. Global health topics will include medical professionals volunteering overseas, and working in complex humanitarian emergencies. Information will be presented via plenary lectures with an opportunity to ask questions.

June 26 - 27, 2025 Update: Travel Medicine and Global Health

(Hybrid) This hybrid conference will provide an overview of travel medicine and global health. The conference is targeted to non-specialist physicians and other health professionals with an interest in travel medicine and global health. Travel medicine topics will include immunizations, malaria prophylaxis, traveler's diarrhea, and other topics salient to caring for those who travel to low-income nations. Information will be presented via plenary lectures with an opportunity to ask questions.

August 3 - 5, 2025 Emergency Radiology 2025

(In-Person) This course offers an in-depth exploration of trauma and stroke imaging, emphasizing essential aspects of diagnosis and treatment within a regional care network framework. Led by revered professionals from the University of Washington and various trauma centers in the US and Canada, attendees will gain invaluable insights. Additionally, participants can opt for a tour of Harborview Medical Center's Radiology and Emergency Departments, enhancing their understanding of a Level I Trauma Center's radiological practices and experiences.

September 8 - 12, 2025 53rd Annual Advances in Family Medicine and Primary Care

(Hybrid) This is the 53rd year that the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Washington School of Medicine is offering educational opportunities for family medicine and primary care health care providers. Each year our goal is to provide current information about practice skills and the diagnosis and management of a broad array of primary healthcare issues within family medicine, cardiology, endocrinology, psychiatry and behavioral science, neurology, sports medicine, women's health, pulmonology, nephrology, infectious disease, chronic pain, pediatrics, and gastroenterology.

October 6 - 10, 2025 Comprehensive Hematology & Oncology Review Course

(In-Person) Encompassing 54 topics, this program delves into the data backing guidelines, recommendations, and recent breakthroughs concerning therapeutic approaches for patients grappling with solid tumors and hematologic conditions. Upon program completion, participants will possess enhanced insights into the pathogenesis, diagnostic assessment, and treatment options spanning various solid tumors and hematologic disorders. The knowledge gained can assist attendees in readiness for certifying and re-certifying examinations.
