CLINICAL CARDIOLOGY PEARLS FOR PRIMARY CARE

Friday, April 28, 2023
Online via Live Webinar

Sponsored by UW School of Medicine
Department of Medicine, Division of Cardiology
Office of Continuing Medical Education

For primary care providers – including family medicine physicians, internists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, nurses, and others with an interest in heart disease.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is tailored for a primary care audience and is intended to provide practical, up-to-date information on commonly encountered cardiovascular diseases. University of Washington School of Medicine faculty will teach participants using case-based lectures and an audience response system to encourage interactive dialogue virtually. Every-day primary care topics including diagnosis and treatment of coronary artery disease, congestive heart failure, valvular heart disease and supraventricular arrhythmias, including atrial fibrillation, will be covered. Practical issues regarding use of new anticoagulants, appropriateness of cardiac testing, and the evaluation of chest pain with stress testing and coronary CT imaging will be reviewed.

COURSE FEES

All Learners	$200.00
*Resident/Fellow/Student	$125.00

Resident/Fellow/Student rate requires written confirmation of current status. Failure to provide required documentation may result in an additional balance owed.*

Registration rates increase on April 14 by $25

Continuing Medical Education at the University of Washington is a self-sustaining unit and does not depend on or receive public monies in support of its educational efforts. The course fees are estimated to cover transcript of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™, access to online instruction materials, course logistics, faculty planning and salaries.

If you have not received confirmation prior to the course start, please contact the CME office at cme@uw.edu. Continuing Medical Education will not be responsible for expenses incurred by an individual who is not confirmed.

ACCREDITATION

Accreditation with Commendation

The University of Washington School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The University of Washington School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, attendees should be able to:

- Treat and manage high blood pressure based on updated clinical guidelines.
- Apply cholesterol guidelines and latest clinical trial data of novel cholesterol treatments to the management of patients with cardiac risk factors and atherosclerotic vascular disease.
- Evaluate patients with chest pain and order the appropriate stress and imaging tests for your patients based on current guidelines.
- Evaluate and manage patients with valvular heart disease; identify which heart murmur patients should be referred for an echocardiogram and when patients should be referred for valve repair or replacement.
- Diagnose and treat patients with palpitations, and understand the appropriate use of heart rhythm monitors and when to refer patients to cardiology.
- Utilize novel diabetes drugs that have proven benefit in reducing cardiovascular events.
