2nd Annual
Seattle Sudden Cardiac Death Symposium

Saturday, February 1, 2025

Sponsored by UW School of Medicine
Division of Cardiology
Office of Continuing Medical Education

Orin Smith Auditorium
850 Republican Street
Seattle, WA 98109

TARGET AUDIENCE

This course is designed for Cardiologists, Cardiac Electrophysiologists, Internal Medicine, Emergency Medicine, First Responders and Public Health providers in the Pacific Northwest. The course is also well-suited for nurses, nurse practitioners, physician associates, naturopathic doctors, fellows, and residents in these specialties.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Sudden cardiac death is a critical public health issue, driving extensive clinical and translational research focused on predicting and improving outcomes for at-risk patients and survivors of cardiac arrest. This course underscores the necessity of ongoing education for healthcare providers at all levels, ensuring they are equipped with the latest evidence-based practices.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, attendees should be able to:

- Identify state-of-the-art evidence, use, and available data on wearable cardiac defibrillators.
- Recognize the impact of modern guideline directed medical therapy and revascularization on sudden death risk.
- Describe updates on the latest evidence and best practices in resuscitation.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Course activities are exclusively reserved for course attendees. This course will only be offered in-person.

ACCREDITATION

Accreditation with Commendation: The University of Washington School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation: The University of Washington School of Medicine designates this Live activity for a maximum of 7.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FEES AND REGISTRATION

To enroll, please register online at uwcme.org.

Continuing Medical Education at the University of Washington is a self-sustaining unit and does not depend on or receive public monies in support of its educational efforts. The course fees are estimated to cover transcripts of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™, access to online instruction materials, course logistics, food and beverage, alcohol during the reception, faculty planning, travel, honoraria, and staff salaries.

If you have not received confirmation prior to the course start, please contact the CME office at cme@uw.edu. Continuing Medical Education will not be responsible for expenses.
